Touch Screen Remote Controller

The Rotel RR-990 LCD touch screen remote controller takes the place of up to eight different remotes to put a sure end to coffee table clutter and "lost remote" problems. It's customizable so you can configure it to match both your system and your unique way of enjoying it. The RR-990's backlit, touch-sensitive screen displays up to eight custom control panels that allow easy programming of both single commands and multi-command "macros" to really enhance utility. The RR-990's simple, elegant design adds just the right touch of class to any room as it helps everyone fully and easily explore the pleasures of today's home entertainment systems.
