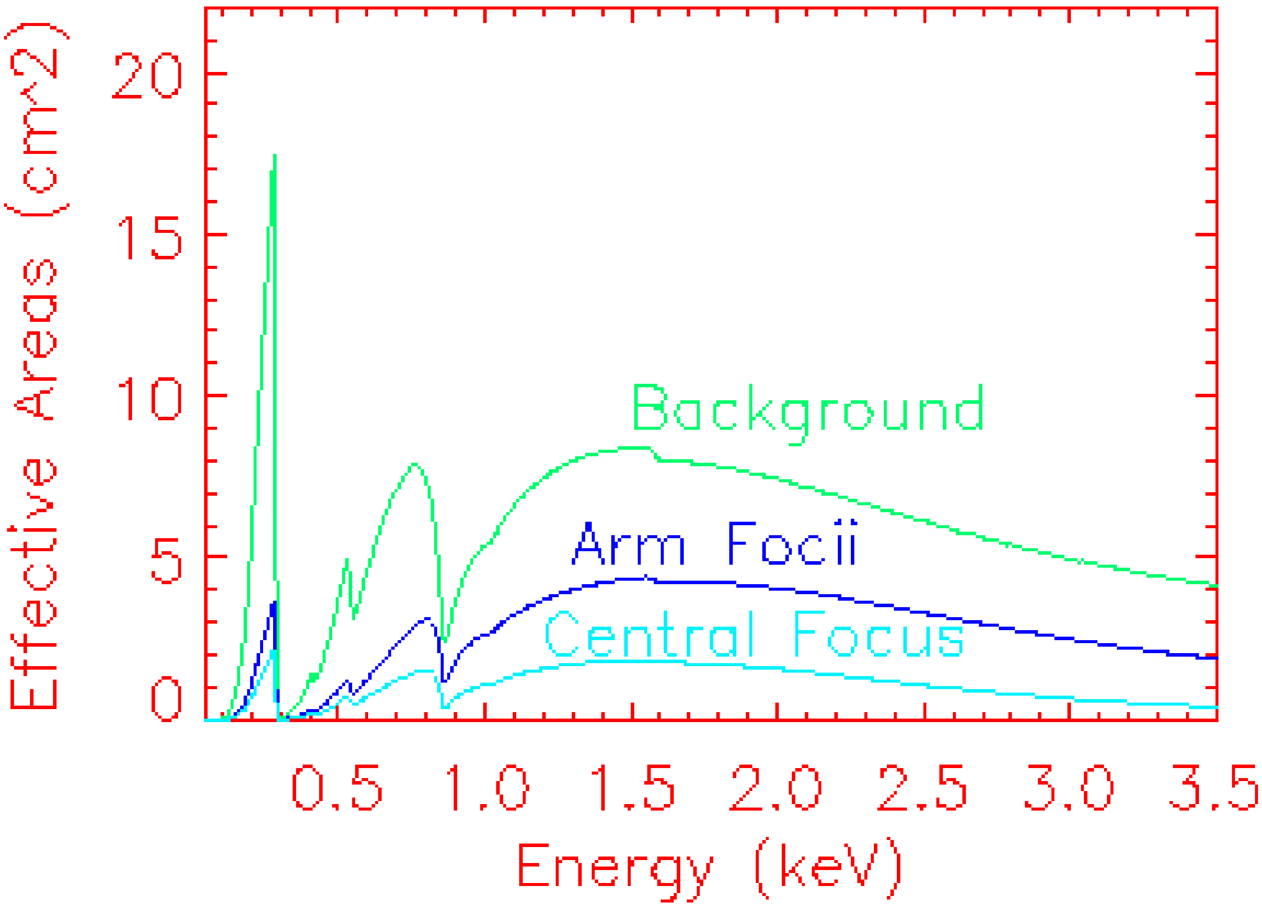
Lobster Telescope Effective Areas



To obtain the flux in the relevant focus from a source, multiply the source intensity by the effective area. For the background multiplying the background brightness by the effective area x $(4/R^2)$ gives the background rate per unit area at the detector.